

BUILDING CHAMPIONS begins with you.

"You make a living by what you get and you make a life by what you give. Participating will provide better opportunities for the student-athletes of tomorrow."
 - Rick Cole, Jr., Vice President for Athletics, Dowling College

Meet Vladimir Milosavljevic.

In Academics, Athletics, Community, and Life, Vladimir aims to achieve his personal best. For more than forty years, the Dowling College Department of Athletics has been committed to developing student-athletes like Vladimir—people who are not only exceptional performers in the classroom and on the field but who are also well-rounded citizens seeking to better their communities and uphold a life mission of Building Champions.

Today, we need your support to continue Building Champions like Vladimir for generations to come. Join our Golden Lions Club with a small contribution and help our men's soccer team continue to produce student-athletes who go above and beyond in their everyday lives. Benefits vary depending on level of contribution as specified in the chart below.

Academics.

Men's soccer Head Coach John DiRico takes great pride in the success of his team off the field. During his tenure he has helped four student-athletes be named Academic All-Americans and the men's soccer team has been recognized by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America for their high grade-point average.

Athletics.

One of the most storied programs in NCAA Division II, the men's soccer team has made twelve trips to the NCAA tournament. Four times they were national semifinalists, once a runner-up, and in 2006 they won the school's first-ever NCAA National Championship.

Community.

Active participants in the department Make-A-Wish Foundation and Keep Itsp Clean community service programs, the men's soccer team is a visible member of the Dowling community.

Life.

Many alumni of the men's soccer team have gone on to play professionally or channeled their love of the game through coaching. The success of our program is a testament to those who have come before us.
